The world
comes to Baden-Baden.

THERE’S NO DOUBT that Baden-Baden can have a tremendous regenerative effect. After all, it’s a top-class spa destination. But did you know that Baden-Baden can have an enormous impact on your working life too? Of course, the success of any such event comes down to top-notch preparation and getting the right people to attend. We can’t help you there.

But having an excellent framework to support you is just as important. And, to extend the metaphor, a frame can be either dull and made of plywood or gilded and tailor-made. And this is where we can be of service: Baden-Baden provides the perfect framework for your event because Baden-Baden inspires. You won’t find concrete here – but the most beautiful architecture imaginable. You won’t find impersonal service – but gracious hospitality. There’s no dull ceremony here – but colourful variety. No frenetic hustle – but flawless efficiency. There’s no shortage of vision here either – in Baden-Baden you’ll find art, culture and a thousand possibilities. The city is both international and compact.

Founded long, long ago as a place for people to relax and reconnect with themselves, its thermal springs were already enjoyed back in Roman days. Steaming hot, mineral-rich water bubbles up from a depth of 2,000 metres underground – it’s Baden-Baden’s most important natural resource. However, people recognised quite early on here that we’re comprised of both body AND mind. Thus Baden-Baden was never “just” a spa town, it was always a place for inspiration, exchange, relaxation and stimulation. We can’t possibly list all the artists, politicians, kings and other notables from around the world who have met and still meet in Baden-Baden. We can, however, show you on the following pages just why they came here. Baden-Baden is in the midst of reinventing itself: in the new millennium, savoir-vivre is coupled with contemporary lifestyles. Likewise, when we talk about creative flow, unparalleled incentives and work-life balance, Baden-Baden’s eternal credo is always at the centre of it all: “The very best for everybody”. This applies equally to all areas of life – be it unashamed relaxation or successful working. An ever-increasing number of international guests have come to value this and travel to Baden-Baden – to discover what we like to call “EUROPE’S LIFESTYLE CAPITAL”.

“You’re in the best of hands in Baden-Baden.”
Jacques R., Paris

“You’re in the best of hands in Baden-Baden.”

You're in the best of hands in Baden-Baden.
Compact, professional and charismatic

What makes Baden-Baden so attractive as a location for conventions?

What makes Baden-Baden so attractive as a location for conventions? First and foremost, it’s compact: everything you need is in close proximity – the Kongresshaus Baden-Baden, the various meeting and event locations, almost 130 hotels – all are set in the midst of art, culture and nature. And there are just as many first-rate options for big international congresses as there are for short, exclusive workshops with select participants.

Plus there’s the location:
Baden-Baden is centrally located in southern Germany’s Black Forest and boasts a climate with more hours of sunlight than anywhere else in Germany. Good for your lungs, good for your eyes: the air in Baden-Baden is particularly pure; Richard Meier, the renowned American architect of Museum Frieder Burda, has said the light in Baden-Baden possesses a “high quality and purity”.

Baden-Baden promotes health:
Its hot springs are rich in minerals, its parks and gardens abound with opportunities for relaxation, the surrounding countryside provides countless possibilities for sport and leisure.

Baden-Baden is lively:
With its SWR3 New Pop Festival, top modern art museums, and first-class shopping venues presenting cutting-edge fashion trends – it’s all enough to take your breath away.

“Every day here is delicious.”
Ulrich M., chef, Baden-Baden

The city offers an unparalleled combination of stimulation and relaxation: its spas, casino and Kurhaus are world-renowned. Acclaimed international stars come here to create unforgettable experiences with their artistry.

This certainly doesn’t mean that Baden-Baden is only suitable for indulging in leisure activities: it’s a great, motivating atmosphere for working as well. From the high quality products created by Baden-Baden’s artisans, to its world-class cuisine, to the impeccable service in the grand hotels: the people of Baden-Baden don’t just meet the highest standards, they set them. Naturally, conferences, congresses and meetings conducted in such an atmosphere are efficient, inspiring and productive. Baden-Baden single-handedly delivers a full range of meeting solutions that satisfy the highest demands – all with professional, 360° service.
A city of short distances.

From the Kongresshaus to the Kurhaus, from exclusive shops to peaceful parks, from the city to the countryside:

Everything in Baden-Baden is within easy reach – on foot, by bike and sometimes even by carriage. Of course, you could go by car, but you’ll often find it unnecessary. After all, isn’t it much more pleasant to stroll in a park after a business lunch, than to merely stretch your legs in a hotel car park?

“The journey is the destination here.”
Ricarda D. from Baden-Baden

Take your pick.

We’ve already talked about Baden-Baden’s short distances, long tradition, fresh ideas and extremely high standards. But not yet touched on the full range of possibilities for your congress, conference, meeting, convention or incentive event. Before we describe the key locations to you in detail, we want to rid you of any illusions about it being an easy choice. When one venue surpasses all the others in technology, one ballroom is clearly more beautiful than all the rest, when one meeting place stands out as infinitely more inspirational – well, then – the choice is easy. But what if all the rooms are equally attractive, the technology equally outstanding, the locations equally great for generating ideas – what do you do then? How do you decide on the one place that will make your conference, your meeting, your congress, your event unique? We’ll give you a little tip: ask yourself what would bring your business partners, your customers or your employees the most satisfaction, even happiness. Do they like things simple, casual and innovative? In that case, we recommend a mixture of modern congress architecture, boutique hotel, trendy gastronomy and perhaps an outdoor team-building event. Or are you after just the opposite: a festive conference room, a Belle Époque suite and an exclusive workshop with a bespoke shoemaker? Or how about a mixture of innovation and tradition? You see: it’s still a challenge. But we can help. In this brochure we can only introduce you to Baden-Baden’s highlights, specialities and possibilities. In person, we can comprehensively advise you and tend to your needs with warmth and professionalism – from the first telephone call right down to the documentation of your successful event.

The Kongresshaus Baden-Baden is located directly adjacent to the Lichtentaler Allee Park. The close proximity to Baden-Baden’s Museum Mile, to legendary hotels such as Brenners Park-Hotel & Spa, to the thermal baths and to the exclusive shopping boulevards, means you can leave the car at home. Even in the complex itself, the distances are short: four large conference rooms and 13 meeting rooms with capacities ranging from 12 to 680 seats allow for flexible room partitioning, individually adapted to every event. As many as 2,700 participants have ample space for fruitful encounters in an exclusive ambience – precisely because the atmosphere in the Kongresshaus is so inviting: glass and steel allow for an uncluttered view, making room for ideas and creativity. The lightness of the architecture – set in the midst of nature, villas, palaces and grand hotels – makes the centre a top-notch conference venue in the heart of a glamorous neighbourhood. The Kongresshaus Baden-Baden and its highly motivated team will accompany you, from planning through implementation to follow-up work for your event.

Be it a conference, congress, concert, casino visit or a glittering ball the Kurhaus is the dazzling heart of Baden-Baden. It’s also in the immediate vicinity of the city’s other major locations. Built in the 19th century in classical style, its central building, with a porch supported by eight Corinthian columns, references the Greek ideal of beauty and harmony. The architecture continues to set breath-taking accents throughout the building's interior: the elegant staircase in the entrance hall, the restaurants and magnificently furnished public areas – there’s the Bénazetsaal, for example: the Kurhaus’s centrepiece – and, of course, the East Wing, where you’ll find the world famous casino, its splendid halls furnished in the style of the French royal palaces of the 17th and 18th centuries.

Facts and figures:
- Suitable for as many as 1,240 participants
- 8 event rooms plus outdoor area
- Total area of more than 2,300 m²
Celebrate where the world’s stars shine:
The Festival Hall Baden-Baden.

Did you know you it’s possible to host events and hold meetings in the very same place where the world’s leading artists perform? In the course of the past 20 years the Festival Hall Baden-Baden has risen to become one of the leading international music venues – and it also makes an ideal event location. With its mix of historical rooms and modern spaces, Germany’s largest opera house lends itself to both fetes and large-scale conferences. Indeed, where the flame of creativity burns bright, celebrations of all kinds are at home – Anna Netrebko, Anne-Sophie Mutter, the Berlin Philharmonic and David Garrett would surely all vouch for that. With international cuisine inspired by top chef the Festival Hall’s in-house gastronomy service pours as much loving detail and freshness into party buffets as they do into a full-course meal served in the former ducal railway station – which today forms the foyer of the Festival Hall. The wide range of companies and organisations that host conferences and special events here are as much regular guests as opera stars, the world’s leading ballet companies, and the greats of jazz and pop. The Festival Hall’s highly experienced catering and event team, headed always has a wealth of ideas on how to give occasions a fresh spin. And the personal touch is of the utmost importance: guests at a corporate anniversary party or an after-work event receive the same special treatment as the leading lights in the music industry. At the end of the day, there is no “one size fits all” formula for an event. Those who work in great theatre know how to bring about a transformation again and again. Thus, it’s not always the big stage show that turns heads at the Festival Hall – small-scale events are staged here with as much loving care. After all, art isn’t about grandiose statements, but masterful details. The Festival Hall Baden-Baden enjoys welcoming guests, always showing them an unforgettable time. With this as its credo, Germany’s largest opera house raises it curtain and opens the doors to its rooms for small, select, festivities – far removed from the hustle and bustle of the city.

Facts and figures:

Always a good bet:
Iffezheim racecourse Baden-Baden.

Germany’s most prestigious racecourse in Iffezheim/Baden-Baden not only impresses with its race meetings but also provides the ideal setting for countless other occasions. Surrounded by stunning countryside and parkland, the remarkable atmosphere and style of this legendary racecourse can be felt across the entire site. Tradition, elegance and – not least – racing fever, permeate this unique venue. The vast facility, with its three grandstands and flexible space configurations, offers near-unlimited possibilities to meet the size requirements of your event. Private functions, meetings, conferences, seminars, workshops, corporate parties, company anniversaries, trade fairs and conventions, incentive events, launches, cultural/sports gatherings or open-air concerts for up to 20,000 visitors: on every occasion, the site awakens to a new and exciting independent existence. Located just 5 km outside Baden-Baden, in the midst of a magnificent natural landscape, the site covers more than 300,000 square metres, with more than 8,000 square metres of available space, distributed across twelve different locations.

Where commerce convenes:

The Palais Biron.

The Palais Biron, located on Lichtentaler Allee near the Dahlia Garden, is a spacious 19,700 m² property with its own private park, which in turn is an inviting spot for a relaxing stroll during mid-day breaks. Today, it is the seat of the Karlsruhe Chamber of Industry and Commerce as well as the Baden-Baden Entrepreneurs’ Talks (BBUG). The Palais, built in 1857 by the architect Auguste de Meuron, has had an eventful history. Throughout the years, major historical figures have been guests of the house, Empress Elisabeth of Austria, for one, who visited the town in 1874. As a conference venue for Germany’s business world the house maintains its tradition of hosting important personages – now and in the future. For more than 60 years, the Palais Biron has been associated with German business symposia. Representatives from across all management levels of German DAX companies and medium-sized companies, as well as the organisers of professional conferences and educational and training workshops have come to appreciate the competence with which the Palais’ team meets the demands of the modern conference industry, just as much as they appreciate the architecture, location and atmosphere. The two shareholders in the building – Karlsruhe Chamber of Industry and Commerce and BBUG - provide professional structures which lend conferences a discreetly elegant touch in a highly professional framework.

Facts and figures:
Suitable for as many as 390 participants 500 m² of conference space and the parkland with a total area of 30,000 m²

And indeed, the accommodation is singularly remarkable. Nowhere else will you find such a diverse range of options in such close proximity. It can be less than a five-minute walk from grand hotel to Kongresshaus, from a Michelin-starred restaurant back to your meeting. But despite all the nearness, you’ll also find soothing vistas and spaciousness amongst magnificent countryside. The most beautiful hotels have their own park, so when you’re weary of talking, simply take a seat at the window of your room and listen to the birds. Or take a dip in the generously proportioned pools. Or enjoy one of the opulent hotel bars. And while you’ll find a wide range of rooms, suites and apartments in Baden-Baden, you’ll also find the hospitality for which the people of Baden are renowned and highly professional service everywhere you go. Because Baden-Baden is a city built for visitors. And that doesn’t mean that Baden-Baden rests on its laurels or is trapped in its Belle Époque tradition: the historic splendour is constantly being rejuvenated, with new structures developed and integrated alongside completely fresh offerings with bold new concepts that enhance the city’s overall landscape. Whether you like things to be opulent or functional, rural or urban, traditional or innovative: you’ll find it all in Baden-Baden.

Baden-Baden is famous for its hotels.

If the view is good, the prospects instantly look better.”
Katrin B. from Munich

Two starred restaurants have made their home here: Le Jardin de France and Röttele’s Restaurant in Neuwieser Castle. The grand Café König, on Lichtentaler Strasse, has also been singled out by the same magazine as “the best café in Baden-Württemberg” for its ‘genuine baking culture, coupled with love and expertise’.

In short: Baden-Baden is a mecca for gourmets and – let’s not forget – wine connoisseurs. What’s simply known as “surrounding countryside” elsewhere, is the revered “Rebland” or wine country here: with countless sun-drenched vineyards producing fruit for Riesling, Pinot Noir, Pinot Bianco Pinot Gris, sparkling wine and schnapps.

Hard work makes you hungry. Baden-Baden whets the appetite.

And it can be just as easily sated here, with outstanding offers to meet every taste and budget. Several congress and conference venues provide on-site catering that leaves nothing to be desired. Wherever you go in Baden-Baden, you’ll find the best restaurants, bistros, cafes and bars close by.
